This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT.

STATE OF IOWA,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
DES MOINES, October 1, 1879.

HON. JOHN H. GEAR, Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

SIR—I have the honor to submit my report as Adjutant-General and Acting Quartermaster-General of the State of Iowa.

By virtue of appointment from your Excellency I assumed control of this department Sept. 1, 1878. Organization then in progress under the military code adopted by the Seventeenth General Assembly, has continued until the regiments, of all arms, thereby authorized have been formed, viz:

One Regiment of Cavalry.

One Regiment of Artillery.

Nine Regiments of Infantry.

It being deemed advisable to organize new companies with a view to a just distribution of the force, and also to arm them as soon as organized, a few of these regiments have not their full complement of companies.

ARMS.

The infantry, as shown in appended report, is, in the main, armed with the Springfield Breech-loading Rifles. The Enfields, though effective and serviceable, as those who have used them in action can testify, are so much inferior to the more modern arms as to be very generally —and I may say thoroughly—condemned by those using them, and although proficiency in drill can be obtained by their use, they should be replaced as fast as possible by the improved arms. The Breech-loading Rifles owned by the State are of the Springfield pattern, and are a first-class weapon in every particular. I am convinced, from the best information obtainable, that in many instances the care taken of them is far from what it should be, and that a rigid, unannounced inspection would develop damaging neglect on the part of some of the companies.

UNIFORMS.

As far as uniformed the companies have themselves provided it. Some have uniforms for a portion of the men, some, a portion of a uniform for each man, and some, to the mortification of both themselves and the public, are compelled to wear on all occasions of drill and parade, clothing wholly unmilitary. The result of the different commands purchasing their own clothing has been to produce a variety of uniform, and as companies are brought together, no two of them are found to present even the same general appearance. It is quite desirable, then, that the troops of the State should be provided with suitable State military clothing, and regiments enabled to have a uniformity of appearance.

DISCIPLINE.

Companies, to maintain their existence, are dependent largely on the communities in which they are stationed, or on assesments made upon individual members. These conditions beget a spirit that yields very unreadily to discipline, and while the command is as yet, in the main, far advance of what might be expected in this particular, there have occurred instances of disregard of authority highly injurious, and calculated to unfit, rather than prepare, men for that strict observance of law and orders, without which all military organizations become disgracefully ineffective. Whatever force, then, the State maintains, it should on its part provide with all the essentials, and in return, insist on such proficiency in soldierly qualities on the part of the members of its Guard as will make them creditable and effective.

ENCAMPMENTS.

Although the law contemplates annual encampments, the very meagre appropriation made by the Seventeenth General Assembly "to carry out the provisions of the military code," made it impossible to hold them. The 4th and 6th Infantry, and the command formerly known as the 1st Independent Battalion, are deserving especial praise for having each held a three days' encampment at their own expense. The good citizens of Independence, Osage, and Marshalltown, where the encampments were held, gave earnest encouragement and substantial aid to these financially hazardous undertakings. Camps of this kind, while not without good results, are too open to the consciousness of each man having a financial interest in the affair, and a consequent desire to have a voice in the management to the extent of the capital invested.

I deem it of vital importance that annual encampments be held, as contemplated by the law. In no other way can such useful information be imparted. The men being brought together, habituated to the duties of the camp and field, held under rigid discipline, the requirements of camp life being performed with the exaction of active service, will derive more practical benefit in the allotted five days than during a year of the ordinary instruction.

Should it not be deemed advisable to assemble the entire Guard annually, there might each alternate year be an encampment of officers and non-commissioned officers. This would bring together a number of men sufficient to organize three regiments. Commissioned officers could be assigned according to rank, or by competitive examination, until the positions were filled, and the remainder could find ample opportunity in the line for gaining sound military information.

INTEREST IN THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Such general activity and wide-spread interest has been taken in military matters as to have called together within the present year two National conventions, to consider measures for the advancement of the National Guard throughout the country. The first convention met in New York City, January 16, with seventeen States represented; the second meeting was in the city of St. Louis, on September 30, where fourteen States were represented. In our own State, in response to the following circular, there were gathered together one hundred and sixty-two delegates, every regiment in the State being represented, and by a class of citizens calculated to reflect the highest credit upon any cause whose fortunes they might champion.

STATE MILITIA CONVENTION.

VINTON, IOWA, April 8, 1879.

To the Iowa National Guard:—

AT a convention of the First Brigade, held at Des Moines last winter, the undersigned was requested to appoint a committee to take steps for the calling of a general convention of the Iowa National Guard. The committee met at Cedar Rapids on the 25th of March, and it was then resolved to call a general convention to meet at Marshalltown, on the 14th of May next. One of the objects of the convention is to demonstrate to the people of the State, and to the gentlemen who are aspiring to the Legislature, that the National Guard of Iowa is alive, and deserves to have encouragement. It is absolutely necessary to our maintaining an existence as militia that the next Legislature should make a reasonable appropriation for our benefit. A large convention will attract the attention, and insure us the respect always accorded to an organization which shows itself to be numerous, wide awake, and powerful.

Some changes will also be proposed in our military code, for the convention to consider.

The convention will consist of all commissioned officers of the National Guard, and three enlisted men from each organized company in the State. All officers are expected to appear in uniform (either full or undress), without side arms.

The convention will assemble at 9 o'clock, A. M., Wednesday, May 14th.

Respectfully,

C. V. MOUNT,

Major General.

Such public mention has been made of the proceedings of these assemblages as to require no further notice here.

That the government, during the war of the rebellion, was enabled to place such large bodies of troops in the field, and so rapidly convert them into effective soldiers, was due in a great measure to the amount of reliable military information furnished by our military academies, and in the ranks of the militia. In support of this statement I desire to call attention to some facts shown by the records of this office. Under President Lincoln's first call for 75,000 men Iowa's apportionment was one regiment, and so quickly was the requisite number of men tendered the State, that none but organized companies could be accepted. That regiment furnished for Iowa alone (and many are known to have accepted commissions from other States):

One Major General.
Four Brigadier Generals.
Four Brevet Brigadier Generals.
Ten Colonels.
Eight Lieutenant Colonels.
Seven Majors.
Fifty-seven Captains.
Eighty-five Lieutenants.

OFFICE WORK.

The general business of the office has required much clerical labor, not including a very large number of miscellaneous letters and documents received from the War Department, and other departments, for transmittal to soldiers whose post-offices were unknown at Washington.

One thousand three hundred and twelve responses to letters have been mailed.

Two hundred and thirty-four officers have been commissioned.

Four hundred and twenty-nine certificates of military history have been issued.

Four General Orders (480 copies), have been issued.

Fifty-nine Special Orders (387 copies), have been issued.

It is surprising to observe, from the number of applications for certificates, how many Iowa soldiers have lost their discharges, and all evidence of service.

These certificates are used in bounty claims, military land allowances, pension claims, and for most purposes for which the original discharge was intended.

Complete records of all business are necessarily kept, and all documents regularly filed and preserved, so that a steady, continuous discharge of clerical duty is in progress, to keep up the details and maintain the business of the department.

RENEWAL OF WAR RECORDS.

I desire, especially, to call attention to the condition of some of the important war records of this office. They have so far faded out as to be practically useless, and should be recopied.

The attention of the Legislature was called to the matter by General Baker, and subsequently by General Looby, but no action was taken. If the soldiers of Iowa could spend years of hardships in camp, in prison, and on the battle-field to make these records, surely the State can well afford the time and expense required to keep them written down and preserved.

MILITIA RETURNS.

The present law requires county auditors to furnish annually to this office lists of persons subject to military duty. I am of the opinion (except as to number) these reports might be made biennially, or upon the order of the Governor, without detriment to the State.

RIFLE PRACTICE.

Many of the States are paying very considerable attention to rifle practice. Some of our own companies are evincing a creditable interest, and are becoming quite proficient in this direction, but the wants of the Guard as a whole are of a primary character, and should be met before further attention is given this important subject.

THE MILITARY CODE.

The military code as adopted by the Seventeenth General Assembly is, in its essential features, a good law. Experience has shown where some minor changes and additions would be desirable, but its greatest want is an appropriation sufficient to enable the State to exact its requirements and guarantee its provisions. The General Assembly of Illinois, at its last session, gave the subject of State protection searching investigation, and finally adopted the Iowa law almost without change. They, however, made appropriations whereby it would become effective.

One especially happy feature of the present law is its limiting the active force to eleven regiments: many years will elapse before this number will need to be increased. The policy of the State, then, should be to hold to the present strength, permit no other armed organizations within its borders, foster and build up these eleven regiments and make them such a power for the maintenance of order, that there existence will exert the same moral effect as if they were continually on duty, and such a school for instruction that the State may have ever at hand material from which it can at any time, as it did in 1861, from the 1st Regiment, officer such force as it may desire. Our needs, then, are chiefly encampments; a limited amount of camp and garrison equipage; such an apportionment to each headquarters (from Company to Division), as to relieve officers from actual outlay in correspondence for the benefit of the State; and for the men a good plain, serviceable, uniform, such as will place the whole force in respectable personal appearance, give new life to the organization, and spare a patriotic body of faithful citizens the necessity of providing their own personal outfit while in the service of the State.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding this report to your Excellency, and submitting for your consideration the various recommendations now presented for the better government and permanency of the citizen soldiery of our State, I desire most respectfully to assure you that, as the head and chief of the National Guard, the whole body of officers and members of the organization look with hopeful confidence to you for a continued manifestation of the earnest interest which you have been pleased to evince for all that relates to its honor, welfare and progress.

Very truly, your most obedient servant,

WILLIAM L. ALEXANDER,

Adjutant-General.

Settlement was made by crediting each company, reporting forty or more men for duty, with rent at the rate of $50.00 per annum, from the date of filing their enlistment papers in this office to July 1, 1879. ## CHAPTER 125.

MILITARY CODE OF IOWA.

AN ACT to provide for the organization of the State Militia, and entitled the "Military Code of Iowa," and fixing the salary of certain officers: repealing Title VIII of the Code.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

SECTION 1. That all able bodied male citizens of the State, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, who are not exempted from military duty according to the laws of the United States, shall constitute the military force of this State.

SEC. 2. Assessors in each township are required to make and return to the county auditor of their respective counties, at the time of making the annual assessment, a correct list of persons subject to military duty, which list may be revised and corrected by the board of supervisors; and the county auditor shall, in the month of June in each year, certify to the Adjutant-General of the State a true copy of said list.

SEC. 3. When it is necessary to execute the laws, suppress insurrection or repel invasion, or when a requisition shall be made by the President of the United States for troops, the Governor, as Commander-in-Chief, shall, by his proclamation, order out for active service the militia of the State, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, designating the same by draft if a sufficient number shall not volunteer, and may organize the same and appoint and commission officers therefor, and when so ordered out for service the militia shall be subject to like regulations and receive from the State like compensation and subsistence, as are prescribed by law for the army of the United States.

SEC. 4. SUB-DIVISION 1.—Except in time of war or public danger, the active militia shall not exceed one regiment of infantry for each congressional district in the State, and one regiment of cavalry and one regiment of artillery for the State at large. It shall be designated as the "Iowa National Guard," and shall be recruited by volunteer enlistments.

SUB-DIVISION 2.—The entire State shall compose one division of not more than two brigades, to be commanded by one Major General and two Brigadier Generals. The Commander-in-Chief shall assign all regiments, battalions and companies, to such brigades as he shall think proper. All enlistments therein shall be for three years and made by signing enlistment papers prescribed by the Adjutant-General, and taking the following oath or affirmation, which may be administered by the enlisting officer, to-wit:

You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will bear true allegiance to the United States and the State of Iowa, and that you will support the Constitution thereof: that you will serve the State of Iowa faithfully in its military service for the term of three years, unless sooner discharged or you cease to become a citizen thereof; that you will obey the orders of the Commander-in-Chief and such officers as may be placed over you, and the laws governing the military forces of Iowa—so help you God.

SEC. 5. SUB-DIVISION 1.—The staff of Commander-in-Chief shall consist of an Adjutant-General, an Inspector-General, a Quartermaster-General, a Commissary-General, a Surgeon-General, and such other officers as he may think proper to appoint. The Adjutant-General shall rank as a Major-General. He shall issue and transmit all orders of the Commander-in-Chief, with reference to the militia or military organizations of the State, and shall keep a record of all officers commissioned by the Governor, and of all general and special orders and regulations, and all such matters as pertain to the organization of the State militia and the duties of Adjutant-General, and except in times of war or public danger he shall perform the duties of Quartermaster-General, as required by law, without additional compensation therefor. He shall have charge of the State arsenal and grounds, and shall receive and issue all ordnance stores and camp equipage on order of the Commander-in-Chief. He may appoint, with the approval of the Governor, an ordnance-sergeant, at a salary of not more than $400 per year, who shall, under the direction of the Adjutant-General, take charge of the State arsenal and grounds, and shall aid and assist him in the discharge of his duties. He shall furnish, at the expense of the State, such blanks and forms as shall be approved by the Commander-in-Chief. He shall also, on or before the first day of October next preceding the regular session of the General Assembly, and at such other times as the Governor shall require, make out a full and detailed account of all the transactions of his office, with the expense of the same for the preceding two years, and such other matters as shall be required by the Governor. He shall reside at the State Capital and shall hold his office during the pleasure of the Governor, and shall receive for his services $1,000 per year, except in time of war or public danger, when he shall receive like pay as a Brigadier General in the United States army.

All voting shall be by ballot, and no voting by proxy shall be legal; and a majority of all votes cast shall be necessary to elect. The senior officer present at such election shall preside. The returns of election, properly attested, shall be made promptly within five days from the date of election, to the commanding officer of the regiment, who shall promptly forward the result of said election to the brigade commander, who shall report the same to the Adjutant-General of the State, by whose approval the Commander-in-Chief will issue commissions accordingly; provided, that at the organization of a new company the election shall be conducted under such regulations as the Adjutant-General shall prescribe.

All persons serving three years consecutively in the active militia, shall on application be entitled to an honorable discharge, exempting them from military duty except in time of war or public danger.

SUB-DIVISION 8.—The organization, equipment, discipline and military regulations of the State Militia, shall strictly conform to the regulations for the government of the army of the United States, in all cases, except as herein otherwise provided, and all orders and regulations governing troops, not in conflict with the constitution of this State, and the provisions of this act, shall be binding upon all members of the Iowa National Guard.

SEC. 6. Every officer, non-commissioned officer, musician and private of the Iowa National Guard, shall be exempt from jury duty, from head or poll tax of every description, during the term he shall perform military duty. The uniforms, arms and equipments of every member of the State guard, shall be exempted from all suits, distresses, executions or sales for debt, or payment of taxes; provided, that no property of any kind or nature whatsoever, shall be exempt from executions issued for fines lawfully assessed by any officer, company, battalion or court-martial, against any member of the State guard. The militia shall, in all cases except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at drills, parades, encampments, and election of officers, and in going to and returning from the same.

SEC. 7. SUB-DIVISION 1.—The commandant of each regiment and battalion, may order monthly, or semi-monthly, day or evening drills, by the companies of his command, from October to April, inclusive, and the members thereof shall receive no compensation for their services, while attending such drills.

SUB-DIVISION 2.—The Iowa National Guard may parade for drill three or five days annually, by company or regiment as ordered by the Major-General, and the members thereof shall receive as compensation for their services at such annual parade, their subsistence at the rate of thirty-three and one-third cents per day, and their transportation to and from the place of rendezvous, at the rate of not to exceed one and one-half cents per mile each way.

SUB-DIVISION 3.—The commanding officer of any encampment, may cause those under his command to perform any field or camp duty he shall require, and may put under arrest during such encampment, or parade, any member of his command who shall disobey a superior officer, or be guilty of disorderly or unmilitary conduct, and any other person who shall trespass on the parade or encampment grounds, or in any way interrupt or molest the orderly discharge of duty by members of his command, and he may prohibit the sale of all spirituous or malt liquors within one mile of such encampment, and enforce such prohibition by force if necessary; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the regular business of any liquor dealer, whose place of business shall be situated within said limits.

SUB-DIVISION 4.—The Major-General shall direct such target practice at the annual parades and encampments as he may deem expedient, and he may command at each general encampment, and report the conduct and discipline thereof to the Commander-in-Chief. And for the use of the militia in such target practice, the Adjutant-General shall issue to each infantry or cavalry company on the requisition of the commanding officer thereof, an amount not exceeding one thousand rounds of fixed ammunition in each year; and for the use of the artillery he shall issue in each year forty rounds of ammunition to each gun.

SEC. 8. SUB-DIVISION 1.—Upon the organization of any company or battalion of the State Guard, on the requisition of its commanding officer and the approval of the Governor, the Adjutant-General shall issue all necessary ordnance and ordnance stores; provided, however, that when any arms or munitions are delivered to any commander, he shall execute and deliver to the Adjutant-General a bond payable to the people of the State of Iowa, in a sufficient amount, and with sufficient sureties to be approved by the Governor, conditioned for the proper use of such arms and munitions, and return of the same when requested by the proper officers in good order, wear, use and unavoidable loss and damage excepted. All such arms and munitions shall be kept at the company or regimental armory.

SUB-DIVISION 2.—The following amounts of money shall be set apart from the fund of the State, as hereinafter provided, for the rent of an armory for each regiment or battalion, viz: The Adjutant-General, under the approval of the commander, shall apportion to each company of the State Guards not to exceed $50 for payment of armory rent, fires and lighting thereof; provided, that said apportionment shall be equal between the several regiments, battalions, or companies, based upon the number of enlisted men regularly reporting for duty. All requisitions for the rent of armories must be made in duplicate by the commandant of any regiment or battalion, countersigned by his adjutant and quartermaster, on the Governor, who, being satisfied that said requisition is in compliance with this act, shall cause one copy to be filed in the office of the Adjutant-General and the other copy he shall forward with his indorsement thereon to the State Auditor, who shall thereupon draw his warrant for the amount named in said requisition on the State Treasurer, payable out of the State fund, and forward said warrant to said commander. The armory of each regiment, battalion or company, shall be subject to the orders of the Adjutant-General, be under the charge of its commanding officer, who shall keep therein all property furnished by the State, and no company shall be furnished with arms or equipments until a suitable armory shall be provided for their deposit.

SUB-DIVISION 3.—The entire State Guard and all armories, ordnance stores and camp equipage belonging to the State shall be inspected at least once each year, without expense to the State, under such rules and regulations as may be provided by the Inspector General, with the approval of the Commander-in-Chief.

SUB-DIVISION 4.—Any officer, non-commissioned officer, or private of the Iowa National Guard knowingly making any false certificate or false returns of State property in his hands, or neglecting or refusing to apply all money drawn from the State Treasurer for the purpose named in the requisition therefor, shall be guilty of embezzlement and fraud, and shall be punished in the manner as provided for like offenses in the criminal Code of this State.

SEC. 9. SUB-DIVISION 1. The several organizations, regiments, battalions and batteries, of the Iowa National Guard shall adopt the fatigue uniform of the army of the United States.

SUB-DIVISION 2.—The field, staff and line officers of the Iowa National Guards shall adopt the uniform prescribed for officers of the same rank in the United States army.

SUB-DIVISION 3.—Every officer, non-commissioned officer, musician or private, who shall neglect to return to the armory of the company, or place in charge of the commanding officer of the company to which he belongs, any arms, uniform, or equipment, or portion thereof, belonging to the State, within six days after being notified by said commanding officer to make such return, or to place the same in his charge, shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than two months, or both.

SUB-DIVISION 4.—Every person who shall willfully or wantonly injure or destroy any uniform, arm, equipment or other military property of the State, and refuse to make good such injury or loss, or who shall sell, dispose of, secrete or remove the same, with intent to sell or dispose thereof, shall be fined not more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both.

SEC. 10. SUB-DIVISION 1.—Every non-commissioned officer, musician and private, absent without leave or excuse satisfactory to his commanding officer, from any parade, drill or encampment, shall be fined two dollars ($2.00) for each day of absence; and for any unsoldierly conduct at drill parade, or encampment, he may be fined not more than ten dollars ($10.00) by his commanding officers, who shall notify him of such fine within ten days after such absence or offense. If such fine is not paid within ten days after said notice, said commanding officer shall certify the same to the commandant of his regiment, who shall hear and determine the same. And he may at any time within six months after such hearing, draw his warrant for the collection of such fine, directed to the sheriff, or any constable, who shall proceed to enforce the same, in the same manner as an execution issued in any civil action. Such fines, when collected, shall be paid into the treasury of the company, troop or band to which the offender belongs. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any company or band imposing such fines upon its members as it may think proper in its by-laws, which fines may be enforced in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for the collection of fines for absence from drill, parade or encampment.

SUB-DIVISION 2.—A judge advocate, with the rank of major, shall be appointed for each brigade, and hold office during the pleasure of the Commander-in-Chief, who shall perform the duties of such office in the courts-martial held in his district; and no other person shall prosecute or defend in such courts; but when he shall be unable to attend, from any cause, or shall be disqualified by interest or relationship, the Major General may designate the judge advocate of another brigade to act in his place.

SUB-DIVISION 3.—Commissioned officers, for neglect of duty, disobedience of orders, or unsoldierly or ungentlemanly conduct, may be tried by court-martial, provided that no sentence of any court-martial shall affect the life, liberty or property of any citizen of Iowa, according to the regulations provided in like cases in the army of the United States. The Major General, by order, shall designate the time and place of holding such courts, and the names of officers composing it, consisting of not less than three nor more than six. The senior officer named shall preside, and shall be of superior rank to the officer on trial, when practicable. Witnesses for the prosecution and defense may be summoned to attend by subpœna signed by the judge advocate. Any witness, duly summoned, who shall fail to appear and testify, may be, by warrant of the president of the court, directed to the sheriff, or any constable, arrested and treated as in like cases before civil courts. The fees of all witnesses shall be the same as allowed in civil cases, to be taxed, with the necessary expenses of the judge advocate and the court, by the president of the court, and paid by the State Treasurer, on the Auditor's warrant, to the judge advocate, who shall pay all expenses of the trial, when received by him.

SUB-DIVISION 4.—The sentence of courts-martial shall be approved or disapproved by the Commander-in-Chief, who may mitigate or remit any punishment awarded by sentence of court-martial, when such sentence shall have been approved by the Major General. The record of all the proceedings and the sentence of a court-martial, in every case with the order approving or disapproving it, shall be deposited in the office of the Adjutant-General.

SEC. 11. Every division, brigade and regimental commander in the Iowa National Guard, is hereby authorized to appoint a military board or commission without expense to State, of not less than three nor more than five officers, whose duty it shall be to examine the capacity, qualifications, propriety of conduct, and efficiency of any commissioned officer in his command, who may be reported to the board or commission; and upon the report of said board, if adverse to such officer, and if approved by the Commander-in-Chief the commission of such officer shall be vacated; provided, always, that no officer shall be eligible to sit on such board, whose rank or promotion would in any way be affected by the proceedings; and two members, at least, shall be of equal or superior rank with the officer examined; and if any officer shall refuse to report himself, when directed, before such board, the Commander-in-Chief may, upon the report of such refusal by his commander, declare his commission vacated.

SEC. 12. Nothing in this act shall be construed to extend the time of office of any commissioned officer beyond the term for which he shall have been elected by his company, battalion or regiment.

SEC. 13. Chapter 1, Title 8, of the Code of 1873, and all other acts or portions of acts in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Approved, March 25, 1878.

I hereby certify that the foregoing act was published in the Iowa State Register and Iowa State Leader, April 3, 1878.

RESISTANCE TO PROCESS IN SUPPRESSION OF RIOTS.

SECTION 4145, CHAPTER 6, CODE OF IOWA 1873.—When the sheriff or other officer authorized to execute process finds, or has reason to apprehend, that resistance will be made to the execution thereof, he may command as many male inhabitants of his county as he may think proper, and any military companies in the county, armed and equipped, to assist him in overcoming the resistance, and if necessary, in seizing, arresting and confining the resisters and their aiders and abettors, to be punished by law.

SEC. 4154. When an armed force is called out for the purpose of suppressing an unlawful or riotous assembly, or arresting the offenders, it must obey such orders in relation thereto as have been made by the Governor, or by a Judge of the Supreme, District or Circuit Court, a sheriff or magistrate as the case may be.

BIENNIAL REPORT.

STATE OF IOWA,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
DES MOINES, October 1, 1881.

HON. JOHN H. GEAR, Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

SIR—I have the honor to submit my report as Adjutant-General and Acting Quartermaster-General of the State of Iowa.

MILITARY CODE OF 1880.

The enactment of chapter 74, Laws of the Eighteenth General Assembly, has wrought many changes in the Iowa National Guard. In contrast with previous legislation on this subject, is the feature of this law being coupled with an appropriation with which to carry out its provisions. The Military Committee of the Eighteenth General Assembly found a force in the State that had been enlisted under chapter 125, laws of the Seventeenth General Assembly, with the understanding that they were to receive the benefits promised by this law, when in reality there was practically no appropriation to meet its requirements. The amount necessary to do this was larger than the committee deemed advisable to recommend. The first question, therefore, to consider, was how much ought to be appropriated for military purposes. It was finally ascertained that little or no opposition would be made to an annual appropriation of $20,000, but the sum would not sustain more than half the companies already organized; therefore a new law must be framed that would work a reduction of the force to an extent that it could be supported by the amount agreed upon. To effect this reduction and do no injustice to companies that had enlisted and maintained themselves at no small expense, with the understanding that the law of 1878 was operative, was something of a problem. The final solution was a provision against the organization of any new companies of any description, the mustering out of the cavalry and artillery regiments, and exacting such requirements of existing infantry companies as was thought would work the voluntary disbandment of the requisite number. The wisdom of abandoning the artillery and cavalry has been attested by similar action on the part of several of the older States. The subject was among the first brought forward at the annual meeting of the National Guard Association of the United States in Philadelphia in March last, and the weight of opinion was that the money required to sustain these branches of the service could be used with better results in promoting the greater efficiency of infantry. The effect of the feature of the law relative to a reduction of the infantry has been to leave us forty-six companies, which have been harmoniously organized into six regiments, containing, with the exception of the First, which has but six companies, eight companies each. These six regiments comprise two brigades, of three regiments each. The consolidations have been gradually effected, so that no officer has been mustered out before the expiration of his term, and no such general changes have been made as to create dissatisfaction. To make the appropriation pay just what the law contemplates; viz., the expense of encampments, four dollars per man as clothing allowance and sixty dollars to each company for armory rent and headquarter allowance, the companies have to be kept to near their minimum strength. No legislation could be more fatal to the Iowa National Guard, than that which would permit any material increase of it without a corresponding increase in the appropriation. With the present strength aid is only given in three directions (as above stated), and additional force would interfere even with that. The command, as now organized, offers abundant opportunities for the use of a larger appropriation than the one now made, and it could be profitably expended in providing overcoats, knapsacks, canteens, blankets, and camp and garrison equipage. The enlistment papers of the young men now in the service of the State are almost exact counterparts of those made for the men who entered its regiments in 1862. As is shown in another part of this report, the officers are in the main thorough soldiers, who acquired their military education in active service. The cost of maintaining this trustworthy body of men, I do not hesitate to say, is less than that incurred by any other State having a military force of equal strength and efficiency, and is less per man than the government allowance to every soldier of the United States army for target practice alone, and is also less per man than the amount that at least one State pays its Guard simply for their time during encampment.

ENCAMPMENTS.

To economize as much as possible in this direction, so that in 1881 the entire command might camp together, but five regiments were encamped in 1880, and these were placed at points near their stations, and easy of access. These regiments, as then organized, had but thirty-two companies, and camped as follows: The Second Regiment, four companies, Captain A. W. Jaques commanding, at Fairfield; the Eighth Regiment, four companies, Colonel Byron A. Beeson commanding, at Marshalltown; the Fourth Regiment, eight companies, Colonel Charles S. Bentley commanding, at Postville; the Sixth Regiment, eight companies, Colonel James McCarty commanding, at Charles City; the Fifth Regiment, eight companies, Colonel W. W. Ellis commanding, at Red Oak. I visited each of these camps, and found them in much better condition than I had expected, and going through their daily programme of camp duties with an earnestness truly commendable. The picnic idea that works such injurious results in militia camps had gained no hold, and officers and men were thoroughly imbued with the spirit that they were called together for work and not for a holiday or season of useless parade. There was room for criticism, but considering how recently the force had been reorganized, the encampments of 1880 were creditable and productive of good results. They were the first ones held in the State where the expense was not borne by the parties holding them, and gave the Guard the first evidence that the State would really carry out its part of the contract, and keep faith with it according to the provisions of the law.

ORDNANCE.

The companies are all provided with breech-loading Springfield rifles, but have not as yet the most desirable equipments. To replace the old cartridge boxes with the McKeever pattern has been an object long and earnestly desired, and I am pleased to say that they are finally being made for us at the Rock Island Arsenal, and will be issued before the close of the year.

DESERTERS.

About half of the work of this office pertains to matters growing out of the war of the rebellion, and in this connection I desire to call attention to a subject that, while it may be difficult to find an early remedy, should not be allowed to pass without some effort in that direction. I refer to the cases of the men who, in the spring and summer of 1865, deserted and came home. It seems to me that the ends of discipline have been accomplished, and that the nation now owes these men an honorable discharge. While I do not hold to the opinion that any man who deserted during the period of actual war should ever have the charge of desertion removed, I do claim that now after the lapse of sixteen years, the men whose longing for home led them to leave their commands after the surrender of the rebel armies, have suffered sufficient punishment for their crimes. The causes which led to some of these cases, in the First Iowa Cavalry, are readily recalled, but they occurred in other commands where the provocation was not so great. I have in mind two divisions of a corps in camp at Louisville, Kentucky, in August, 1865, that had, for three years, shared together the fates of serious war; one received orders to muster out and go home; the other received orders to go south. Their enlistment papers read, "three years or during the war." Lee and Johnson had surrendered. Was it surprising that there was, at this time, recorded against some of these men their first disobedience of orders? To this office come almost daily applications for certificates of service; they come from fathers, mothers, and wives, asking of their sons and husbands, and I have traced, sometimes, a career most honorable from sixty-one to sixty-five, and as its closing word have written that epitome of military disgrace, "deserted." The inquiry may arise as to why this class is now, and has so long been, quiet. The American remedy for ills, real or imaginary, is the petition or the convention. A call for a convention of deserters would be a novelty indeed.

PRESENT RESIDENCE OF EX OFFICERS OF IOWA REGIMENTS.

Inquiries as to the whereabouts of ex officers of Iowa regiments during the war of the rebellion do not seem to decrease, while the difficulties in finding these officers have each year materially increased. These inquiries come mainly from the departments at Washington and from soldiers in search of evidence in various claims, and involve such extensive interests that I am persuaded the State could, in n way, render such a valuable service to its war veterans as to cause to be prepared and published a complete list of ex officers of Iowa regiments now living, with their present address, and an appendix containing the names of such as have died since the war. This latter is necessary for the reason that in a claim where the evidence of an officer is material, and his death is established, other testimony may be introduced that would not be admissible provided the officer was living. This book should be placed on file in the departments at Washington, and in the office of every county auditor in the State, and should be furnished to every living officer whose name it contains on condition that he report to this office any change of his residence. I am aware that it will take much time and labor to collect the necessary data for this work, but think that, through the Iowa National Guard, county officers, and soldiers known to this office who will readily appreciate the value of it to the many poor veterans who are now spending money and time in search of their officers, it can be accomplished, and the book published with comparatively no expense to the State, except the bare cost of publication.

THE BATTLE-FLAGS.

The rapidity with which the old battle-flags of Iowa regiments have of late years been going to decay has attracted the serious attention of those most directly interested in their preservation. The solution of the question how to prevent this was accomplished in the main from without this office, and during the year at the small cost of $410 for the one hundred and twenty-four here on deposit, each flag has been given the protection of a piece of tarletan on either side, and now hangs in its place with its tattered fragments stitched between and while it can be almost as readily seen as ever, what remains of it is in such condition as to require no additional attention until the time, which I trust may come, when these historic relics are encased in glass and given a place in the new capitol.

RENEWAL OF WAR RECORDS.

Under the wise provision made on this subject by the Seventeenth General Assembly, the second volume of the general index which had so faded as to be read only with the aid of a strong glass, has been recopied. The work was satisfactorily done by Miss Julia Thomas, of Brooklyn.

I mention in this connection the retirement on October 13, 1881, of Mr. M. Jensen, as Ordnance-sergeant. Mr. Jensen had been a faithful and trusty attache of this office since December 1, 1877, and left it to accept a more promising business engagement.

CONCLUSION.

As our official connection is about to close, I desire to express, not as a matter of form, my warmest thanks for the cordial support you have ever given me in any project for the betterment of the Iowa National Guard. Without this, the good results attained would have been impossible. While presenting my own estimate of your interest in their behalf, I desire also to convey the hearty appreciation that I know is felt by the entire command.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully yours,

W. L. ALEXANDER, Adjutant-general.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 9.

STATE OF IOWA,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
DES MOINES, September 15, 1881.

The following orders, relative to encampment, to be held at Des Moines, commencing October 3d, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

I. The camp will be known and designated as Camp Baker.

II. During the encampment, the two brigades, though quartered near together, will preserve their brigade formation.

III. An inspection by the officers of that department will be made at some period during the camp, preparatory to the annual payment for clothing allowance. The orders governing the last payment are yet in force, and will be observed in this. Blank rolls have been forwarded, and company commanders will cause them to be carefully prepared, and bring with them all of the three copies completed, ready for the Inspector.

IV. Blank requisitions for armory rent have been forwarded, and will be completed and returned at once, so that payment can be made without delay.

V. Uncooked rations will be issued, and that the men may have all the conveniences possible, each brigade, regimental, and company commander, will have constructed a strong, substantial mess-chest. These chests should have a lid hung on good hinges, and closing with a suitable padlock. Compartments should be made with special reference to packing, in a convenient manner, all the table ware, cooking utensils, etc., needed. These articles can thus be brought to camp by individual members of companies in quantities far in excess of what could be obtained in any other manner. An allowance of five dollars will be made for every mess-chest constructed according to the spirit of this order.

VI. Good wall tents have been provided that will accommodate from six to eight men each. Company headquarters will be allowed two tents; regimental headquarters four, and brigade headquarters six.

VII. It would be well for brigade quartermasters and commissaries, regimental quartermasters and commissary-sergeants, to be in Des Moines early Friday morning, September 30th, and to all such whose immediate commanders so order, transportation will be furnished.

VIII. Company commanders will ascertain as nearly as possible the number of men they will bring to encampment, and report by mail direct to this office, so that it may reach here not later than September 24th, at which time orders for transportation will issue.

IX. No men not uniformed will be furnished transportation, except such as are employed as cooks or servants.

X. For the transportation of horses and extra baggage, a car will be run from each brigade and regimental headquarters. Forage for horses will be provided while in camp.

XI. No part of the command will be moved earlier than the afternoon or night of October 2d, but an effort will be made to have the entire force in camp as early on the 3d as possible.

XII. To settle questions of rank that may arise, it is ordered that where an officer has served one term of enlistment, and has been recommissioned to the same office, he shall take rank as given him by his first commission.

XIII. No expense will be incurred or bills contracted without being submitted to this office for approval.

XIV. The following named officers are detailed for duty at these headquarters during encampment:

AN ACT to provide a military code, and for the organization, government and support of the State militia, and to repeal chapter 125, laws of Seventeenth General Assembly.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa:

That all able-bodied male citizens of the State, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, who are not exempted from military duty according to the laws of the United States, shall constitute the military force of this State; provided, that all persons who have served in the United States service and have been honorably discharged therefrom are exempt from duty under the military laws of the State; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit any person from becoming a member of any military organization, or holding any office in the militia of this State.

SEC. 2. Assessors in each township are required to make and return to the county auditor of their respective counties, at the time of making the annual assessment, a correct list of persons subject to military duty, which list may be revised and corrected by the board of supervisors, and the county auditor shall, in the month of June in each even numbered year, or at such other time as the Governor may direct, certify to the Adjutant-general a true copy of said list, and in each odd numbered year he shall certify to the number of names on said list.

SEC. 3. When a requisition shall be made by the President of the United States for troops, the Governor, as Commander-in-chief, shall, by his proclamation, order out for active service the militia of the State, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, designating the same by draft, if a sufficient number shall not volunteer, and may organize the same, and commission officers therefor; and when so ordered out for service, the militia shall be subject to like regulations, and receive from the State like compensation and subsistence, as are prescribed by law for the army of the United States.

SEC. 4. The Commander-in-chief shall have power, in case of insurrection, invasion, or breaches of the peace, or imminent danger thereof, to order into the service of the State such of its military force as he may deem proper, and under the command of such officers as he shall designate.

SEC. 5. In case of any breach of the peace, tumult, riot, or resistance to process of this State, or imminent danger thereof, it shall be lawful for the sheriff of any county to call for aid upon the commandant of any military force within his county, immediately notifying the Governor of such action; and it shall be the duty of the commandant upon whom such call is made, to order out in aid of the civil authorities the military force, or any part thereof, under his command.

SEC. 6. The command of any force called into service under sections four and five shall devolve upon the senior officer of such force, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Commander-in-chief.

SEC. 7. The military forces of this State, when in the actual service of the State in time of insurrection, invasion, or immediate danger thereof, shall, during their time of service, be paid, by an appropriation especially made therefor, the following sums each for every day actually on duty:

SUPPLEMENT.

STATE OF IOWA,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
DES MOINES, November 20, 1881.

HON. JOHN H. GEAR, Governor and Commander-in-chief:

IN accordance with your request, I have the honor to make the following report of the encampment of Iowa National Guard, at Des Moines, October 3d to 7th, inclusive. The general orders relative to this camp were Nos. 5, 7, and 9, the two first of which are published in my biennial report, and the last named was as follows:

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 9.

STATE OF IOWA,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
DES MOINES, September 15, 1881.

The following orders relative to encampment, to be held at Des Moines, commencing October 3d, are published for the information and guidance of all concerned:

I. The camp will be known and designated as Camp Baker.

II. During the encampment the two brigades, though quartered near together, will preserve their brigade formation.

III. An inspection by the officers of that department will be made at some period during the camp, preparatory to the annual payment for clothing allowance. The orders governing the last payment are yet in force, and will be observed in this. Blank rolls have been forwarded and company commanders will cause them to be carefully prepared and bring with them all of the three copies completed, ready for the inspector.

IV. Blank requisitions for armory rent have been forwarded and will be completed and returned at once, so that payment can be made without delay.

V. Uncooked rations will be issued, and that the men may have all the conveniences possible, each brigade, regimental, and company commander, will have constructed a strong, substantial mess-chest. These chests should have a lid hung on good hinges and closing with a suitable padlock. Compartments should be made with special reference to packing, in a convenient manner, all the table ware, cooking utensils, etc., needed. These articles can thus be brought to camp by individual members of companies in quantities far in excess of what could be obtained in any other manner. An allowance of $5 will be made for every mess-chest constructed according to the spirit of this order.

VI. Good wall tents have been provided that will accommodate from six to eight men each. Company headquarters will be allowed two tents. Regimental headquarters four, and brigade headquarters six.

VII. It would be well for brigade quartermasters and commissaries, regimental quartermasters and commissary-sergeants, to be in Des Moines early Friday morning, September 30th. and to all such whose immediate commanders so order, transportation will be furnished.

VIII. Company commanders will ascertain as nearly as possible the number of men they will bring to encampment and report by mail direct to this office, so that it may reach here not later than September 24th, at which time orders for transportation will issue.

IX. No men not uniformed will be furnished transportation, except such as are employed as cooks or servants.

X. For the transportation of horses and extra baggage, a car will be run from each brigade and regimental headquarters. Forage for horses will be provided while in camp.

XI. No part of the command will be moved earlier than the afternoon or night of October 2d, but an effort will be made to have the entire force in camp as early on the 3d as possible.

XII. To settle questions of rank that may arise, it is ordered that where an officer has served one term of enlistment, and has been re-commissioned to the same office, he shall take rank as given him by his first commission.

XIII. No expense will be incurred or bills contracted without being submitted to this office for approval.

XIV. The following named officers are detailed for duty at these headquarters during encampment:

Lieutenant-Colonel J. Rush Lincoln, 1st Regiment.

Lieutenant-Colonel Chas. B. Rounds, Aid-de-camp, Commander-in-chief.

Lieutenant-Colonel M. T. V. Bowman, Aid-de-camp, Commander-in-chief.

They will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

By order of the Governor.

As stated in my biennial report, that there might be a general encampment in 1881, but thirty-two companies were encamped in 1880, and they were placed at or near their stations, and not held for full time. The continuous rains prior to and during the encampment of 1881, seriously interfered with the preparation of the camp, the comfort of the men en route and their work after their arrival. Notwithstanding this and other circumstances against them, the main force made the most of the opportunity for the military instruction and benefits for which they were called together, and although put to a test that would have been something of a trial even to veterans, proved themselves possessed of true soldierly qualities. The experience of all the States that have given the matter any attention, is that more substantial benefits are obtained by their guard from their annual encampments than from all other sources of instruction combined. So generally is this recognized that some States have purchased and fitted up permanent camping grounds, and nearly all pay their men for their time while in camp. Massachusetts pays each man two dollars per day, and requires five days' duty, thus paying for services in camp alone, an amount greater than the total cost per man for the support of the Iowa National Guard during the entire year.

I append herewith a statement of disbursements made since the publication of my biennial report; in addition thereto, there are bills on file, for transportation to encampment, not yet audited, as follows:

|---|---|
| Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway | $1,221.95 |
| Chicago & Northwestern Railway | 1,651.51 |
| Illinois Central Railway | 272.34 |
| Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway | 714.68 |
| Central of Iowa Railway | 237.54 |

The unexpended balance shown in the following table, will meet all claims for the period of the appropriation.

I have the honor to be,

Yours very respectfully,

W. L. ALEXANDER, Adjutant-general.
